significance and importance. He filed Supreme Court application for a writ of mandamus to compel Alfred H. Brisenenden, Mrs. Garrett's brother-in-law, to testify, after Brisenenden had refused to answer questions on advice of counsel. Hearing on the petition will be held Tuesday.

He summoned on a writ of habeas corpus Albert K. Sidlinger, Deer Island prisoner sentenced in the Ritz conspiracy trial. Like Nicholas Cockinos yesterday, Sidlinger was taken from prison for questioning in advance of his appearance as a witness at the hearings.

WEEKLY 'GALLER'

After disposing of Brisenenden and two minor witnesses at today's proceedings, Atty-Gen. Warner launched immediately into the Hotel Ritz case, calling Mrs. Butterfield, who lives now at 473 Columbus ave., South End.

She appeared with Attorney Joseph Rice, who was counsel in civil matters for her husband before his death. Aiding in the probe, Rice had questioned her on several previous occasions in the presence of her mother or his aide.

Sworn as a witness, she was asked if she knew Garrett, and replied that she did and identified him.

When she declared that while living at 129 St. Botolph st., Back Bay, with her husband, between October, 1925, and March, 1927, she had known Mrs. Butterfield and her husband, she was asked by Atty-Gen. Damon if she had seen him at the Ritz, Garrett was an almost weekly caller at their home.

The ex-liquor dealer usually called about 3 a. m. after her husband had returned from his work at the Ritz, she said.

"Did you see your husband hand anything to Garrett?" she was asked by Atty-Gen. Damon.

"Yes, an envelope," she replied. "Did Mr. Butterfield hand Mr. Garrett envelopes every time he came to the house?"

"Yes," was her answer. "After my husband was not at home, he left her the envelope to give to Garrett, she said, and these occasions were "two or three."

She said she did not know the nature of the contents of these envelopes. "Did the contents feel like bills?" she replied, calmly. "I could not say."

She did not know whether the envelopes varied as to size of contents. There were no marks on the envelopes, she said.

He inquired: "Did Mr. Butterfield ever speak to you of the importance of these about what was going on at the Ritz as to drinks?"

POLICE GO TO DEPT.

"Yes," she replied. "He told us that trucks were loaded to take liquor away from the Ritz before the police got there. He told me that police officers met and entered in the rooms and found there. He said they had whatever they wanted to drink and eat for nothing."

She could not remember whether her husband had told her who those police officers were.

Under the new rules governing the conduct of the hearing, Atty-Gen. Warner allowed Herbert Callahan, Garrett's attorney, to cross examine Mrs. Butterfield. It was Callahan's first appearance since the investigation started.

Moran, whose home is in Cohasset, testified he was a detective, sometimes in federal employ, and was permitted to withhold the identity of his present employer. In 1925, he said, he worked for the prohibition department.

On April 11, 1928, he said, he went to the Hotel Ritz and there met John F. Sullivan, proprietor of that hotel. He said:

"Sullivan took me into a back room of the hotel when I first went there and asked me what I thought of an officer that would take care on Thursday night and come the next night with his racking sound and take $400 worth of my choice liquor."

Moran said Sullivan told him his attorney was Callahan, now counsel for Garrett.

Two or three days later, he testified, he saw Sullivan again. "Did you have any talk with him about the police or about Garrett or about who they were doing to him?" he asked.

"He said that conditions were such that he was not taking home $25 a week, that his wife was nearly prostrate, that he had made out $65,000 or $60,000 in two or three years."

"Did he say to him when he said 'I was asked and in fact, Sullivan had the proverbial pin-drop would have been a cannon shot'?"

"The hearing room was no longer quiet. There were audible gasps, and then a low murmur of what was said."

CAUSES AN UPROAR

"After all the guests had an opportunity to learn of the argente's presence, he walked through the dining room looking into the booths and soon left," she said.

Brisenden was the first witness called. His previous refusal to answer a summons precipitated Warner's appeal to Governor Allen which resulted in his arrest and detention.

Today he answered the summons but upon advice of counsel refused to answer questions.

The proceedings grew into an uproar when Atty-Gen. Damon asked Mrs. Butterfield to identify Brisenenden, she said, and she refused to do so.

Alonso E. Young, of Parkville, Mo., Atty-Gen.'s present landlord, was the next witness. He testified regarding rent payments in bills of $20 and $100 denomination.

Lawrence E. S. Schott, East Weymouth garage man, told of transactions with the Garrett's.

Feed Courtyer, of Weymouth, was another witness. He said he sold Mrs. Garrett 10 or 12 head of cows for $1200 or $1500. Subsequently, it developed, he bought the Ritz Grove Farm cattle herd of 43 head for $3375. That was a year ago this month.

He said he would cut short his testimony.

When Raymond Fontaine, 4, stopped to get his usual cheery greeting from Janette Forget, 15, who lives on the floor below, he saved her life.

Janette lived upon the floor in the hall and there was an ominous smell in the air—the heavy odor of gas.

The four-year-old hurried up stairs to his mother and she called the police and they brought an ambulance.

The hospital attendant said that Janette would recover. They feared that a bottle of soap had boiled over, extinguishing the gas.

Among those at the institution today in a vain attempt to withdraw funds were a score of Smith College students whose school allowances were on deposit at the bank.

According to bank officials, Newcomb had been speculating in the last few years and lost heavily in the recent stock market crash.

Complaints have been made that the shortage was caused by Newcomb abstracting cash from inactive savings accounts and by using fraudulent withdrawal orders in obtaining funds in his charge.

The shortage problem is solved by selling a life-insurance apartment and an automobile in the bank.

CHIEF OF S. LIQUOR PROBE

Premier Ferguson Thinks It Is Unwise to Try to Influence Legislation

Toronto, March 28 (AP)—Premier G. Howard Ferguson of Ontario announced today that he will not accept an invitation to appear before House of Representatives judiciary committee at Washington in testimony on government control of liquor in Ontario.

The Premier declared that if the Ontario witnesses to send it to the authorized representatives to Ontario the government will be pleased to assist him in every way in getting all the information possible.

He cannot make an appearance before the committee, Premier Ferguson said, because "it is undesirable that the Premier of this province should attempt to influence the trend of legislation in a friendly foreign country."

The invitation to the Premier is to be extended by Representative Lathrop, Democrat, of Maryland, leader of the wet block. He desires Premier Ferguson to appear in rebuttal to the testimony of E. C. Drury, former Premier of Ontario, who termed Ontario's liquor system an absolute failure.

Canada Rum Exports to U. S. Decreasing

Washington, March 28 (AP)—A sharp decrease in liquor exports from Canada to the United States in February, 1930, as compared with February, 1929, was shown in figures made public today by the assistant secretary of the Treasury.

Statistics received from Ottawa, Lowman said, showed that in February, 1930, exports of intoxicating beverages amounted to 159,997 gallons compared to 322,345 gallons in February, 1929.

COCKINOS TELLS AMERICAN OF HUGE BRIBE OFFERS

By NICHOLAS COCKINOS

I received bribe offers ranging from $2000 to $10,000 to "lay off" the Ritz Hotel after I had brought about successful raids on the place.

I'm going to expose the whole story of the Ritz at the Garrett hearing—a story that the ring, with its almost unbelievable power and influence, prevented me from telling before.

When I get through testifying before the attorney-general, the world will know for the first time just what took place behind the walls of that hotel.

I first became active against the Ritz when the father of a 14-year-old girl came to my office and told me that his daughter and another girl of the same age were persuaded by two men to go there for lunch. They were drugged and carried to a room. The father told me, and I had medical evidence to substantiate it, that his daughter came out of there a hopeless invalid.

I was the victim of a framed case and the testimony of men who didn't dare defy the orders of the ring. I had to be covered "at any cost" as one Suffolk County official put it.

And the cost was my liberty and the ruin of my good name, just as in the case of Al Belling.

I avoided many traps set by the Ritz. I have seen Time after time I avoided the Ritz Hotel after I had been invited there on some pretext or another.

OFFERED $2500 BRIBE

A man at the Ritz, came to me one time and showed me $2500 in cash. He said, "Will you give this to me?" I said, "I will give it to you if you will give me $2500 for my trouble."

I declined to take it, as I had other and larger bribes offered to me. At the trial I testified about that attempt and said that in reality I had given him $2500 to bribe me and I had given him $2500 for my trouble.

CLUE TO MURDER

The Ritz also was the last place where Mary — was seen alive. When the State police were investigating this case, they learned that she had been slain as the result of a quarrel between two men, habitués of the place. Police knew what the conditions were there, but they said they were helpless.

"We can't butt into Boston," they explained.

During a raid under the direction of Federal officers soon after the murder, Sgt. — was discovered in the hotel. He was not on duty.

Maj. Goodnooth reported the matter to Commissioner Wilson and the latter replied, "The sergeant may have had official business there."

I know a police sergeant who hijacked a wagon load of liquor consigned to the Ritz Hotel and drove the team away and brought it back a few hours later and sold it all over again to —.

The sergeant was in cahoots with the driver.

GEMS FOR PROTECTION

Special Officer — was a frequent guest at the hotel. He came there on an average of twice a week with different women.

When a witness in the Ritz case was offered money to get out of the State, a watch was set on a certain building to arrest the man coming to pay him off.

The trap failed because a Suffolk County official's telephone was warned.

I have given to the attorney-general the name of a woman who gave Special Officer — $1100 worth of jewelry for protection.

The above facts and many others which will tie up Boston police officers with keepers of speakeasies and questionable places I have named to Mr. Warner.

WITNESS TELLS WOMAN TESTIFIES WAITER GAVE OFFICER ENVELOPES

The Garrett hearing was resumed today at 10:45 o'clock. The first order of business was Atty.-Gen. Warner's reading of the legislative resolve giving him broader powers in his probe.

Following the reading Warner said he wanted to incorporate in the record his recent newspaper statement commenting upon his broader powers.

Warner then announced that any person called upon to testify may have counsel if desired.

Questions in writing may be submitted to me. If they are material to the issues involved, they will be asked of the witness.

All cross-examination will be permitted upon issues involved, concluded Mr. Warner.

Two questions would be asked of all witnesses who take the stand hereafter in the hearing. These are:

Are you willing to give testimony in this investigation voluntarily?

Do you consent to waiver of immunity from any action on the matter being testified to in response to a subpoena by the attorney-general?

The attorney-general then called as the first witness, Alfred H. Hall.

Atty. Gen. Warner accompanied the man and announced that the witness had presented himself in response to a subpoena by the attorney-general.

He is willing to be sworn.

Mr. Warner announced that before the man was to be sworn, he would put to him the two questions mentioned a moment before.

He both questions, he answered.

On advice of counsel, I refuse to answer.

Damon E. Hall, special assistant attorney-general, made a motion to the attorney-general that the witness be sworn.

The witness was then sworn in by Mr. Warner.

Q. What is your name? A. Alfred H. Hall.

Q. Are you a brother-in-law of Mr. Garrett? A. On Garrett? A. No.

Atty. Gen. Hall then asked him if he had been sitting in a witness chair directly before his client.

Addressing the attorney-general, Mr. Hall said:

"Say if please the attorney-general, the witness declines to answer the question on advice of counsel on various grounds. These grounds are set forth here—"

He produced a paper which he held in his hand.

She commented that he would like to read in full those grounds, as that they could become part of the record.

Hall asked:

"Do I understand that the witness under your advice declines to answer any questions concerning his connection with Oliver B. Garrett, the Pine Grove Farm or the delivery of milk?"

She replied he himself must decline to answer your question.

She stated that the questions could be put, and he would answer his client as to whether or not he should answer them.

I would like, however, to have my reasons in this manuscript made part of the record," he added.

He asked if he should read the reasons, or if Brinsden should read them.

Warner said:

"I would like to hear from the witness himself, his reasons for his refusal to answer."

The witness then proceeded to read the manuscript, giving the reasons for his refusal to answer. These were written in technical legal language and had many long and involved expressions, many of which Brinsden stumbled over repeatedly.

This occasioned laughter several times.

The reasons in summary were:

The legislative delegation of authority to Warner was only a "last-thought" investigation, and was wholly void under the law.

After Brinsden had read the document, Atty. Gen. Hall asked the privilege of reading the statement himself so that it might become part of the record "correctly."

This was because the stenographers had been unable to take down the statement accurately.

Mr. Hall stated:

"I have marked, meaning as an exhibit for the records."

Don't get worried, Mr. Hall," shouted Brinsden, turning toward him. "Hall leaned back in the chair and calmly remarked:

"The last thing in the world that could happen. Brother Shea, is for you to be able to verify me."

The crowd laughed, and no effort was made to check them.

She said:

"I return the compliment in full to you."

Some of his further words were drowned out, but he ended up by shouting—"

Warner objected with a ringing of the gavel. His words attempting to reduce order could not be heard. Shea tried to interrupt, but Warner kept repeating:

"Mr. Shea, I beg your pardon. I thought you had finished."

Warner then resumed:

"In so far as matters brought to my attention as reasons for the witness' refusal to answer, I may not entertain them as reasons. The matters brought to my attention go to the essence of the law. It is contended that legislation is void and invalid."

I am not properly the one to be addressed in such an argument as that. I am acting under the law as passed by the Legislature and assume the responsibility for my action."

Hall then reopened his question-

Garrett in Dapper Garb at Hearing; Brings His Lawyer

Oliver B. Garrett, a sartorially perfect "man about town," arrived at the hearing accompanied, for the first time, by his attorney, Herbert Callahan.

Garrett had on his cane's half coat, brown suit, soft white shirt and brown tie.

He was mentally disturbed he gave no indication of it.

ing of the witness. He had at that point refused to answer a question asking if he is a relative of Mrs. Oliver B. Garrett.

Q. For whom do you work at the present time?

When this question was asked, Brinsden looked toward Atty. Gen. Hall.

Apparently getting a signal, Brinsden said:

"On advice of counsel, I refuse to answer."

Atty. Gen. Hall said:

"The witness refused to answer on the grounds already read in the statement."

He asked the official stenographer to make note of that reason. The stenographer marked the document as exhibit B.

Hall resumed the questioning.

Q. Were you at any time connected with the Pine Grove Dairy?

Brinsden looked at his lawyer and said he must refuse to answer. This answer brought laughter, as did every response of this type.

Q. Are you willing to state what your connection was with the Pine Grove Dairy?

A.—"On advice of counsel, I refuse to answer."

More laughter followed.

The statement that Brinsden had read and which was incorporated in the record was as follows:

"The witness declines to answer under advice of counsel, and upon the following grounds:

"That the question as put calls for an answer not related to any subject matter within the scope of this inquiry."

There is no declared purpose in the resolve for findings of fact in aid of any legislative purpose connected with the subject matter of inquiry as limited therein. Further there was no actual purpose inquiring or supporting the resolve for findings of fact in aid of any legislative purpose."

Accuses Ring

Under the resolve the public hearing, however, that the Legislature ever contemplated private sessions followed by public disclosure of selected facts, thus violating the public policy.

The Legislature has no authority to delegate its inherent judicial power to any person or group of persons not included in its own membership, and, further, has no power whatsoever by direction to control or prescribe the services of any constitutional judicial officer of the government.

It follows that the Legislature could not compel the services of the attorney-general except the responsibility of the investigation—thus in both aspects the legislation is void and of no validity.

The testimonial compulsion of the witness under these resolves is in derogation and abridgment of his state and Federal Constitutional rights.

When Brinsden had completed reading his document, Atty. Gen. Damon Hall questioned the witness as follows:

Q. Did you drive one of the milk trucks in the city of Boston?

A. I decline to answer under advice of counsel.

Q. Will you state who your customers were? A. I decline to answer under advice of counsel.

Q. Will you state how you obtained your customers? A. I decline to answer under advice of counsel.

Q. Will you state how large the route was when you took it over? A. I decline to answer under advice of counsel.

Q. Will you state what customs are in vogue? A. I decline to answer under advice of counsel.

Q. Will you state how you obtained these customers? A. I decline to answer under advice of counsel.

Q. Do you decline to answer any questions about the Pine Grove Dairy, Inc. in Hingham, about Mr. Garrett or Mrs. Garrett with reference to your duties while you were working for them?

At this point Attorney Shea rose and objected to the questioning by Atty. Gen. Hall—"I insist on going on with these questions."

of any advice or recommendation on the part of the attorney-general concerning the subject matter of inquiry as shown by the resolve originally filed, the resolves themselves, the journal of the house and the reports of the committees. This hearing is therefore as an expression of intent by the legislature purely investigatory and wholly futile for any other valid aim or purpose.

This investigation by the terms of the resolves is limited to matters dealing with the service of Oliver B. Garrett during his term of employment as a member of the police department of the City of Boston.

WOMAN CHARGES 'GRAFTING' COPS' CALLED HER 'CRAZY'

Railroaded to two insane asylums because of grafting policemen—threatened with violence if she "opened her mouth."

That's the story told to the Boston Evening American and Atty.-Gen. Warner by a woman whose repeated complaints against police were at first ignored, then were met with claims, with swift punishment.

Mrs. Sarah Schertell of Columbus ave., South End, is to be an important witness in the Garrett probe.

She has names, dates and facts—and a story of persecutions for "knowing too much," she says, about certain Boston police officials. Her story runs this way:

In May of 1923, Mrs. Schertell saw a police officer selling liquor. She complained to his captain, but got no result.

Upon making further complaints, she was sent to the Psychopathic hospital for "observation," she charges.

"They kept me there for a week," she said, "and made all kinds of threats and promises, which I would not listen to."

Without warning, according to Mrs. Schertell, she was suddenly sent to the State insane hospital in Worcester.

"I was there 30 days before they would let me out," she said.

After she was discharged, she asked the hospital for a certificate showing that she had been discharged with a clear record as to health and sanity.

"They sent me a letter which said that the fact that I am at present free and allowed to go on the streets unattended should be sufficient proof that I am entirely sane," she said.

There have been other incidents of police oppression, she charges, and told of an occurrence once last year.

She was living on West Springfield st., where she had a boarding house near an establishment which she discovered to be a house of questionable character.

Something to Think About

Editor Boston American:
Something to think about.
This five-power naval parity in London is just another "scrap of paper." The abolishing of the battleship would throw many men out of work.

But to me they make excellent targets for "sky hawks" (enemy airmen). One need not be gifted with the power of prophecy to lift the curtain of the future.

In the next conflict of nations it will be "war" from the clouds. For example, what could a poorly defended country against a mighty air fleet from confederated European states sending over our cities enemy airships of the latest type dropping tons of TNT and poison gases from control ships far out at sea, wiping out our great cities without any loss to the enemy.

In this day of "death rays," "television" and other forerunners of the future the impossible is possible. The Graf Zeppelin's trip proved that we are no longer isolated and free from enemy airmen that mean "business."
What we need today is plenty of submarines and modern war airplanes before we can talk "peace." Our slogan in Washington seems to be, "Millions for prohibition, but not one cent for defense."
Newton.

BILL RYNN.

See Way to Bring About Disarmament

Editor Boston American:
Scrap the battleships. It costs 40 millions of dollars yearly to keep 18 battleships.
What is the use of a battleship? It is no other use, the greatest advantage of our day, than to fight an enemy's battleship. If Great Britain and United States mean business about disarmament they should both agree to abolish battleships. Here is the long and short of this subject. HENRY T. TITLOW, Worcester.

Criticizes Those Who Teach English

Editor Boston American:
Truth sometimes leaks out in strange ways. I have seen this the other day from an editor. The majority of the men who are supposed to teach the college student to write English cannot write a readable sentence themselves, nor recognize one that someone else has written. Few of them have had the slightest splash in the literary pond or have respect for those who have. They forget that English is a living, growing, language and often remember their teaching with rules and charts and diagrams that the student, very often the teachers themselves, don't understand. I believe nothing better shows up this condition than these words, coming as they do from a reputable editor. We have too many rules for mastering the English language. H. J. AVERY, Brookline.

Harvard for Quantity, Yale for Quality

Editor Boston American:
In answer to the query, which has the greater number of alumni, Harvard or Yale? Harvard has 18,328 more alumni than Yale, yet Yale has the greater number of prominent men among its alumni. HENRY T. PHINNEY.

No Record Can Be Found of Fethered

Editor Boston American:
A. L. S. Brookline: No record of Fethered. Fethered is a name found in County Tipperary, Ireland, eight miles from Cashel.

If You Want to Walk Get a Treadmill

Editor Boston American:
In these days when we are walking less we should give more heed to keeping fit in other ways. No one can really advise that kind of exercise you should pursue. It depends upon yourself. But nothing can supplant walking. We do not walk enough. Most of us are afraid to walk along country roads on account of the automobiles. I know where you can walk today unless you walk in a circle in your back yard or get a treadmill. Pedestrians should be better protected on country roads. HENRY Y. JACKSON, Quincy.

Irish Stew No Cause For Rebellion

Editor Boston American:
What caught my eye in your paper recently was the rebellion of the convicts of Missouri penitentiary, Jefferson City, against Irish stew.
I am very fond of Irish stew and could eat it three times head inside of the door he would be shot. It doesn't amount to only a few pieces of junk that any doughboy had.

In all my three years as a patient there I never saw any one from V. P. W. come up there except Dr. Lucas and he never got any farther than Dr. Sticken's office. I would like to think that if he is familiar with the investigation of two years ago, made by the American Legion, in which Dr. Sticken's methods were condemned and a promise was made to the veterans that both he and Dr. Talbot would be removed as soon as they could get some one to take their places, but they are still there. There is no such thing as conscientious there and if you were to send a real investigator up there you would get a real story, and the truth.

Smaller moves to the reason Sticken and Talbot stay there. There never is a nurse in attendance at the dental office, and Ralph Westfield is not a doctor but is a laboratory man. ROBERT M. DORIS.

Finde King's Chapel

Editor Boston American:
For many weeks I have been studying noon day services at Boston churches, having arrived here from the West some time ago. In a Western city, where I have lived for 18 years, we are preparing in several of the churches daily noon services among the Protestants. Boston was pointed out as an ideal city for noon day services. I cannot give all my conclusions in this letter, but I thought some of your readers might like to know what I found in Boston. I found the congregations in King's Chapel at the noon day service were about three-fourths men and one-fourth women. I watched this pretty carefully from the gallery. In St. Paul's Cathedral, these figures were reversed, with three-fourths women here and one-fourth men.

As I am not a Unitarian and as my figures prove that King's Chapel noon services are more popular for men than for women, I wonder if any of your readers can throw some understanding upon this. I would like to know before returning with my report to my home city. I have spent several days at hotel where I have been staying, but got no light. PAUL S. DINSMORE.

Firebug Hunted in Provincetown Fire

Provincetown, March 28.—The theory that a firebug was responsible for the destruction of the fire station, the high school building and spread to a score of other buildings, is given credence by Police Chief John W. Barton. Investigation is being made as a result of two suspicious circumstances: that the fire started in a section of the basement away from the furnace and that the blinds were drawn, hiding the reflection of the blaze.

While the police and fire officials were busy with their investigation, other town officials and prominent citizens were taking account of stock as result of the fire loss which was financially estimated at more than $15,000.

Rutland Writes of Veteran Hospital

SEE FRANCE IN GERMAN WAR UNDER PLAN

Paris, March 28 (INS).—Under the terms of the Young plan, approved yesterday, France has every right to declare war upon Germany if the latter defaults in reparations payments. Premier Edouard Herriot declared in the chamber of deputies today. In defense of his statement, Herriot quoted a clause in the plan which gives France "active liberty of action" in event of default. Herriot suggested any future difficulties attending collection of reparations claims be submitted to arbitration by the League of Nations or the Hague court of international justice.

'REPEAL' GAINS SLIGHTLY IN DIGEST POLL

Kansas is the only state that is voting "bone dry" in the Literary Digest's nation-wide poll on prohibition, according to the third week's tabulation of over a million votes which will appear in Saturday's issue of the periodical.

Of the 1,244,633 postcard ballots returned, 527,388, or over 42 per cent of the total, vote for repeal of the prohibition amendment, 533,117 favor modification to permit light wines and beers, while only 271,908 vote for the retention of the 18th Amendment and Volstead law.

The returns evidence a slight gain in the ratio of those favoring repeal.

Of the 20 states whose returns are listed in the current tabulation, Georgia, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota and Washington show more votes in favor of enforcement than for either modification or repeal.

In Missouri a strong dry vote runs considerably ahead of that for modification but the "Show Me" vote for repeal is greater than for either enforcement or modification.

The other 10 states, California, Connecticut, Illinois, Minnesota, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, and also the District of Columbia, give a vote for repeal greater than for either modification or enforcement.

Georgia, the only Southern state from which ballots have been tabulated, shows 681 votes for enforcement out of a total of 19,885 returned.

An additional 541,548 votes are reported this week over the returns last week.

North Dakota is the only state that has changed toward a drier attitude.

Plan to Redeem Vets' Bonus Certificates

Washington, March 28 (AP)—A plan under which the government would retire veterans' bonus certificates as rapidly as funds become available was advanced today by Representative Hoffman of the House military committee.

He proposed that the government borrow money at 3 per cent and purchase the certificates from the veterans with it to dispose of them, redeeming them at a discount.

Homer First Made 'Boloney' Famous

Bologna, March 28.—The history of the sausage that made Bologna famous has been written by one Eugene Colombini. He finds it was mentioned in Homer's "Odyssey" and was manufactured on a large scale in 1376, when the workmen formed a guild.

In 1561 three halves of the cat-nine-tails were ordered as punishment for anybody making mortadella, as the sausage is known, out of any meat but pork.

PARENTS WIN IN BALM SUIT

Worcester, March 28 (AP)—A verdict for the defendants, Mr. and Mrs. Miss Hobson of Lowell, was returned today by a jury in Superior Court before Judge Walter L. Collins in the suit their son-in-law, Capt. George J. Kaneuf, of Worcester, brought against them to recover $10,000 for alleged alienation of the affections of his wife, Violet Kaneuf.

U. S. LAGE TARIFF IS PROTESTED

Calais, France, March 28 (AP)—Today was almost like a day of mourning in this city, center of a great industry.

Early this afternoon business in the town ceased in preparation for a huge demonstration of employees and employers against increased American duties on lace importations.

Stores and many cafes were closed, while street car lines ceased operating. A crowd collected in the town square and shortly before 3 o'clock there were between 2,000 and 3,000 persons lining up for the parade.

Communists placarded the town, demanding that workers abstain from the "capitalist" demonstrations.

A resolution adopted at a joint meeting of employers and employees declared that unemployment had doubled in Calais since announcement of the new American duties.

"Unemployment in Calais is now more than 20 per cent," said a placard. "The new duties of the United States will make a lot of unemployed Calaisians."

Who Interest You and What They Are Doing

Retired Archbishop of Canterbury Ill

London, March 28.—Lord Davidson, the venerable retired Archbishop of Canterbury, has been suffering for nearly a fortnight with an extremely painful affliction—a felon on his right hand. This has kept the distinguished churchman confined to his home, and has caused the cancellation of virtually all activities. Lord Davidson had consented to speak, receiving a letter cancelling the engagement. The sympathy of the entire British public has gone forth to the prelate who, for so many years, was head of the Church of England.

Ziegfeld at Palm Beach, Planning New Revues

Palm Beach, Fla., March 28.—Florenz Ziegfeld, glorifier of the American girl and celebrated impresario of the Rialto—wherever the memory of his follies is treasured—is at Palm Beach for an indefinite stay. Primarily, he has come here for his health. But the producer will continue his business and pleasure by sketching out numerous future revues. Since a number of his associates in New York have heard Florida and felt the lure of the Palm Beach golf courses, Mr. Ziegfeld celebrated his 50th birthday just a week ago.

Daphne Pollard Wins $2500 by Her Deposition

New York, March 28.—Ordinarily a few words from Daphne Pollard, who came to Broadway from England's Sherry Hall, win a laugh. They did better than that on this occasion. They won a $2500 settlement in her suit against the Concourse Plaza Hotel, in The Bronx, for lost jewelry. A deposition from Miss Pollard, now in Hollywood, was read before Justice Hasting. In 1926, she forced Justice Hasting. In 1926, she said, she left $12,000 worth of jewelry at the hotel desk for safe keeping. A few days later, when she asked for it, she was told the manager did not have it. In truth it did not for the gems had been stolen. Some of the pieces were recovered in pawnshops. The court decision represented the value of the unrecovered pieces.

Lacoste's Wedding Postponed Again

Paris, March 28 (AP)—Rene Lacoste, French tennis star, has postponed his wedding to Mile, Simone Thion de la Chausse, golf champion, for a second time. The wedding, originally was set for January 10, and then postponed until April. A sister of his health, which began when Lacoste caught a bad cold last May, was given as a reason for the delay.

Rene La Costa Delay

The cold spread to Lacoste's bronchial tubes, necessitating his retirement to the basque country near Biarritz. Although he is much better now, he still has several months' recuperation ahead before he will regain his strength.

9 Hurt in Boston Road Dynamite Blast

New York, March 28 (AP)—Nine men and a crew of 15 working 600 feet below Boston road and Pelham Parkway, the Bronx, in a shaft of the city's new water system, were injured today when a drill caused the explosion of a stick of dynamite which had failed to explode in a previous blast.

According to an inventory filed today in the Suffolk registry of the late George F. Selfridge, Boston attorney, left an estate of $587,115, all personal property.

GERMANS PLAN NEW CABINET

Berlin, March 28 (AP)—Heinrich Brüning, Centrist leader, was asked by President Von Hindenburg today to form a new Cabinet, replacing that of Chancellor Hermann Müller, which resigned yesterday. Herr Brüning accepted. He understood President Von Hindenburg to mean that he would form a new government within 24 hours. The President told him expressly that he did not want to confer for a long time with the parties and secure their approval in advance. Instead he said he should construct a Cabinet without definitely binding the parties to a coalition. Herr Brüning agreed.

Dance Hall Lothario Is Given the Wrong Kind of Smack

Pontiac, Mich., March 28.—Lewis Boley learned that there are two kinds of smacks when he was brought before Judge H. R. Holland on a charge of attempting to kiss Mrs. Ida Rosenblum while in the middle of a dance ball. The court asked Mrs. Rosenblum how she knew Boley was trying to kiss her. "I'm married," she replied, "and I know how my husband acts." When asked what happened she said: "I slapped him and he slapped me back, and I slapped him again." The statutes were considered, but Boley's case was apparently without precedent here. He was released.

TO GET ON TRAIL OF GRUNDY

Washington, March 28 (INS)—A determined but rather hopeless effort to expel Senator Joseph R. Grundy (R.) of Pennsylvania from the Senate because of his activity as a financial "angel" in Pennsylvania's 1928 gubernatorial election will be made next week. Senator Gerald P. Nye (R.) of North Dakota, author of a resolution to expel Grundy, announced he would call for action on it. The resolution probably will be defeated by the Senate, thus allowing Grundy to retain his senatorial life.

Tariff Agreement Lacking in House

Washington, March 28 (AP)—The powerful unofficial group of republican house leaders, known as the steering committee, in a three hour meeting today failed to reach an agreement on the form of the rule under which the House will consider the tariff bill next week. Another meeting will be held at 11 A. M. tomorrow.

Charlestown police have been asked to find Teddy Lok, 14, small for his age, missing several days from his home at 35 Chelsea st., Charlestown. According to his parents he has not returned home nor have any of his playmates any knowledge of his whereabouts. He wears a gray cap and a brown sweater when he left home.

PERHAPS you think it's pretty far ahead to be planning to attend the Martha Lee Cooking Classes next fall, but if you really want to share the pleasures and benefits that your neighbors are enjoying at these interesting free cooking lessons, it will be well for you to enroll very soon as there are at present only approximately 25 vacancies in the fall evening class and about 40 in the afternoon school.

There will be a Fall school for brides and business girls on Tuesdays evenings, from 6:30 to 8:15 p. m., and the Homemakers' class on Wednesdays, from 2 to 4. These classes will open the first or second week in October (notifications can be sent out later), and each course will cover a ten week period. At the end of this time the graduation will be held and diplomas awarded to those attending seven of the ten lessons.

If, however, you are too far away to attend the cooking lessons in person, we suggest your securing a free membership ticket in the Martha Lee Women's Club, which now numbers over 37,000 New England homemakers. Membership in this club entitles you, among other privileges, to our complete cooking service, which includes the furnishing of our lesson sheets used in the Martha Lee Cooking School and such special recipes as you may require from time to time. Also leaflets and booklets furnished by the many prominent food manufacturers who spend such tremendous sums in research work and on reliable recipe books.

Calla Lilies Big Feature for Easter Menus

Of course the loveliest accompaniment for the Easter Sunday ice cream are the calla lily cakes which you'll find illustrated on this page. They are really a fairly form of sponge cake rolled while warm into the shape of a calla lily and filled with whipped cream and a bit of apricot, just before serving. Here's the how of their manufacture:

CALLA LILIES

5 eggs
1 cup sugar
3 eggs, cold water
1 cup flour
1 tsp. baking powder

Beat the eggs slightly. Add sugar, flour and baking powder sifted together. Add the cold water and beat for three minutes and drop by teaspoonfuls on buttered cookie sheet. Bake at 375 until light brown.

The other illustrated recipe shows some Sunday Supper sandwiches prepared for Martha's Favorite Nut Bread, white bread and the cheese food that's really "more than cheese."

*These substantial sandwiches can be made in the morning and wrapped carefully in heavy wax paper to await their evening use. They are especially attractive made in combination with white bread. They can be cut in spades, hearts, diamonds and clubs with tin cutters. The dainty crescent shapes are made by first cutting rounds and then placing your biscuit cutter about an inch and a half away from the edge, thus making the crescents. Finger shaped sandwiches of the dark and white bread are attractive and so are the checkerboard kind.

Here's the recipe for Martha's Nut Bread—and don't fail to note the moderate oven that's the secret of the successful baking of most molasses dishes.

MARTHA'S NUT BREAD
1 cup white flour
1 cup graham flour
1 tsp. soda
1/2 cup walnuts
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup molasses
1 1/2 cups milk
Pinch of salt

Mixture should be stiff as soft bread and bake in a moderate oven one hour.

Scalloped Clams and Macaroni

1 pkg. elbow macaroni
1 qt. clams
2 tbsp. butter
2 cups flour
1 1/2 cups milk
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1/2 cup paprika
1 tbsp. minced parsley
Buttered bread crumbs

Parboil the elbow macaroni for 9 minutes in 4 qt. rapidly boiling water to which 1 tsp. salt has been added. Drain. Clean the clams, steam to remove from shell (or remove from can) reserving 1/2 cup of the liquor. Mince the clams rejecting the tough parts. Make a white sauce by melting the butter and blending in the flour and the milk. Add the salt, pepper, paprika and parsley and cook till the sauce thickens. Then add the strained liquor. Into a well buttered baking dish put alternate layers of macaroni and clams, finishing with the macaroni. Pour the sauce over this, cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a quick oven 15 minutes.

MARKET TOWER

For the careful budgeter, it is good news that potatoes and mushrooms are lower in price and spinach, carrots, lettuce, and cauliflower are also reasonable.

Strawberries are a bit higher, too, but the Louisiana berries will soon be in the market, which will mean lower prices, I think. Grapes are scarce and expensive, but fresh pineapples are coming in priced according to size, from 25c up.

Meat prices remain practically unchanged, with lamb attracting the economical housewife. Fresh broiled ducklings at 35c a pound from the nearby farms are good buys. Fresh eastern halibut stock is 40c to 50c and jack and roe had have appeared with shad roe at 31.25 a pair.

Eggs are plentiful and cheap. Another spring special is 1930 maple syrup, retailing for $2.75 to $3.50 a gallon and maple sugar at 40c at 50c a pound. Have you ordered yours?

MARTHA'S TIPS ON TEA

Today I have some tea tips for all and sundry. Many women who buy the most expensive brands of tea fail to get the benefit of this extra cost of these finest grades by not following the custom in India, and in most other tea growing countries, of steeping the fragrant leaves for at least 5 minutes in the boiling water that is poured over them.

It is actually throwing money away to pay for the highest grades of tea at prices up to $2 or $5 per pound and not get the full, rich flavor for which this top price has been paid unless the leaves under the influence of the boiling water, are given ample time thoroughly to unroll. Only when the leaf is thus unrolled and flat so that the boiling water saturates every portion of it, are the otherwise confined aroma and full rich flavor released into the teacup. The same holds true of any brand, blend or grade of tea no matter how expensive or inexpensive the tea is.

Another tea tip that always should be followed is that the brew be well stirred after it has steeped for the predilection five minutes. Here's an experiment that takes but a moment. Into each of two teacups place a spoonful of tea leaves. The spoonful is better for the test, although an even spoonful ordinarily is used when serving tea. Pour boiling water over the leaves. Put one cup carefully made without stirring at all. At the end of five minutes, carefully separate with a spoon the leaves that are inert at the bottom of the other cup and notice the rich orange or amber colored liquid which clings to the bottom of the cup under the leaves.

This liquid is the fragrant, full flavored tea extract you have paid for. Now stir the leaves vigorously and note the change in color and the streaming fragrance as compared with the cup unstirred. Then taste the liquid near-brew. In the unstirred cup, the liquid of the cup containing the brew that was stirred. Go on, and try it!

135 WAR PLANES IN MANEUVER

Macramento, Cal., March 28 (INR)—Out of the clouds today zoomed fighting planes from four corners of the nation, roaring a war-time symphony.

Converging at Mather Field, the phalanx of war birds, representing Uncle Sam's sky-fighting strength, awaited the "declaration of war" that would send the winged armada aloft to protect California from sham foreign invasion.

More than 135 war planes bristling with Indian devil's machines by 400 daring pilots of the air, were concentrating for the ball to commence next week.

Simulated war between the "Blues" of Uncle Sam and a strong coalition of "Reds" will rock California skies as a "mushy" event of three weeks of spectacular tactical maneuvers.

Comrades at Funeral of Capt. F. L. Lyons
With a detail of 48 flying machines as guard of honor, funeral services for Capt. Frank L. Lyons of Engine 19, Babson st., Mattapan, were held today from the Lyons' home, 54 Alameda st., Dorchester. First Chief Daniel P. Bennett and District Chief Charles A. Donohue, headed the honorary detail along the route to St. Gregory's church, Dorchester. Lower Mills. A solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by the Rev. Richard F. Howard. Burial was in Old Calvary Cemetery.

Alleged Peepers Appeals
When Antonio Corvelli, 41, 120 Linwood ave., Newton, appeared before Judge William F. Bacon in the Newton District Court yesterday, as an alleged "peeper," he was so identified as a "mushy" master, and sentenced to a month on the latter charge. He appealed.

BIG WHITE BREAD BOOST

Among some people, there is a mistaken idea that bread made from white flour is more or less indigestible and in a way not good food for the grownup person. This, I think, has been largely brought about by food faddists, but the fact is that bread made from white flour is not only very nutritious for children, but for grownups as well. It has important food value, particularly for invalids and persons suffering from poor digestion—especially if the flour used is the unbleached brand that you will find in our Martha Lee kitchen.

A friend who has recently been having digestive troubles visited a well known doctor who placed on his diet list white bread. He said that any doctor who knew his business and was honest would endorse white bread.

Bread made from our preferred brand of unbleached flour is particularly good because it is milled as nature intended it to be from No. 1 dark Northern hard wheat the finest and choicest wheat grown anywhere, and not artificially ripened and bleached. As a result of this, our favorite unbleached flour retains all of its goodness and nutritive value that are embodied in the wheat itself.

While bread today is just as much "the staff of life" as it was a century ago—and our pilgrim ancestors were certainly a pretty sturdy lot, weren't they?

Stay Proud of Him
YOU want him to be robust and sturdy... always. Help him now by giving him the body-building elements he needs most... elements which whole wheat supplies. Ralston cereal and Ralston Wheat Flakes are whole wheat at its best.

ROUGHAGE IS ESSENTIAL IN REDUCING DIETS

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Is Ideal Roughage

If you are following a reducing diet it is doubly important that you take a regular amount of roughage into the system daily. Most people find the whole wheat bran a sufficient amount of roughage. The result is constipation—threat of both health and beauty.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is recommended by many doctors because it contains the bulk necessary to insure proper elimination. Also, because it contains the iron needed to help prevent anemia, another danger in reducing diets.

ALL-BRAN is not fattening. Its bulk sweetens the system clean of too much waste—helping to insure more vigorous health and beauty. A popular way to eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is to mix it with fruit juice. It is delicious with milk or fruit. Sprinkle it over cereals, salads and soups. It adds flavor to cooked foods and is equally effective. Your grocer has Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It is served in restaurants, hotels and dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

DRY? MODIFY? REPEAL? Boston American Prohibition Forum—500 In Weekly Prizes

For Repeal

MILLIONS SPENT IN VAIN

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:

Am in favor of repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. Why? Because I believe that should one desire to purchase intoxicating liquor he should be allowed to, openly, and not have to sneak in the alley to do so. You know, I know and most everyone knows that anyone desiring to buy bootleg booze can do so, it is obtainable in all large seacoast cities on both coasts. (I know this from experience.)

Uncle Sam is spending many millions trying to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment, but not succeeding; nor will he succeed unless he spends many more millions with the desire of the majority of the people to help him.

Facing facts, were the big joke (Eighteenth) Amendment repealed then: Uncle Sam could collect many millions on taxes instead of spending many millions trying to enforce it.

The bootleggers could sell their wares legitimately. More work would be created for the jobs.

The quality of the liquor would not be as poisonous. The farmer would benefit because there would be a market for his corn.

The smart set would no longer consider it smart to indulge in a few drinks.

Graft, such as that being exposed in Boston today, would not continue.

The Boston Evening American is throwing the light on what's what in Boston in connection with such conditions of graft. But, just think, readers, what must be going on in other cities.

Of course, in order to repeal the Eighteenth Amendment, Uncle Sam would have to admit he made a mistake, but is not that better than being the laughing stock of the world?

WALTER J. McGRIGOR, U. S. N.

MOCKERY OF TRUE LIBERTY

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:

In my judgment the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead act are decidedly wrong. It has changed the entire country. We are not practicing what we have preached. Since the very foundation of this nation we have always boasted of a free country. By the above amendment we are making mockery of the "Star Spangled Banner." Let it wave as it used to for freedom and the people.

There is a beautiful statue that stands out in New York harbor. It is the Statue of Liberty. Why should the liberty this statue proclaims be taken from us?

Do away with or revise the now existing Eighteenth Amendment, and there will be less drinking, less crime, less bootlegging. Another 10 years like the past 10 years a thoroughly graduated crime country will exist—not a free country.

3 Worcester sq., Boston. C. A. GRIDLEY.

MEANS MORE WORK

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:

I favor the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment because of the following:

1. It will lessen the crime wave in our large cities, prevent graft, bribes, and killing of people who get in the way of bootleggers and racketeers.

2. It will help employment.

3. It will not put this country millions instead of spending millions to enforce it. Besides the people will spend their money here instead of going to Canada or other foreign countries to get a drink of prewar stuff.

4. The poorer class of people can drink something that is, instead of canned meat, jam, Jamaica ginger, etc.

5. In other words this country would be prosperous again.

6. The sale of liquor should be entirely under the supervision of each state. POLES KING, 170 Derby st., Salem.

WOULD COMPROMISE

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:

We the people of a great nation, the people who believe in justice, freedom and equality, and the people who are ever ready to stand by our President and our government, should make an effort to bring about an understanding favorable to the majority regarding the Eighteenth Amendment.

Since it is a fact that there are two factions among our people for and against the Eighteenth Amendment, one declaring for it and the other against it, what is left to do under these conditions but to modify this act?

JOHN J. McGOWAN, 171 Hemenway st., Boston.

Why I Am Dry

By Grace Coleman Lothrop
President Council of Federations of Women's Church Societies

I AM and always have been a total abstainer, because I need all the faculties with which God has endowed me to make the most of my life, and it has been proved beyond question that even moderate drinking weakens the physical, mental and moral powers.

I believe in prohibition, because it is the best plan that has yet been devised to lessen drunkenness. When a better one is presented, I am ready to accept it. But every alternative proposed so far means a saloon, whether called by some other name, and makes the government endorse and profit by a business that works enormous harm to its citizens.

Mrs. Grace Coleman Lothrop

I am strongly opposed to the repeal of our Massachusetts enforcement law, because I believe in supporting the Constitution of the United States and would hate to see my beloved state fail in her traditional loyalty to the federal government, particularly by so futile an act that would not change the law but simply encourage the bootleggers and other violators of the law to still greater excesses by lessening the chances of their being caught and convicted. God save the Commonwealth such a disaster!

For Modification

ELIMINATE THE RACKETEER

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:

I favor modification of the present prohibition law allowing a larger percentage of alcohol in beer and also the sale of spirits, permitting the saloons to open two hours each evening.

Men who want to drink will do so in spite of all the laws forbidding it, as these years of prohibition have proved. When prohibition was born there also was born the racketeer and gangster, who have grown fat and bold. Prohibition has tended to make shirking, furtive, criminal-like creatures out of the poor devils that crave strong drink to help them do their day's work with a lighter heart.

It also has made criminals out of police, who are tempted by easy money, who also drink themselves and have absolutely no respect for this particular law in spite of the uniform they wear.

Kill prohibition and you kill the ruthless grafter and racketeer, and also you will safeguard the citizens of the United States. These are the reasons, my friends, why I vote for modification of the prohibition law. MARTHA DONGENIK, 3 Seventh st., East Cambridge, Mass.

MAKE WHISKEY COST PROHIBITIVE

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:

I am in favor of modification of the present law. The Eighteenth Amendment is the greatest failure this country has ever experienced and has no place in the Constitution. Why not have the same system Canada has?

Let the government take care of it. My idea is to have light wines and beers sold at moderate prices and whiskey so high that people will not be able to buy much. If that had been done 10 years ago I am sure things would be different by now; the people would have been educated to drink less intoxicating beverages.

Why so much talk about the saloon, now that we have the speakeasy and bad whiskey? Which is worse?

If the government sells everything for use at home, what chance has the saloon to come back. It will be better than the present condition of graft, crime and corruption.

CURT A. WESTERMAN, 50 Stedman st., Brookline, Mass.

RUINED HOMES

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:

I favor modification. As an outside man for my company I am in direct contact with the homes, and I find that there is excessive drinking of moonshine. Families that never had anything hard to drink in the house now have a stock on hand.

Children are drinking and are often tempted to steal and sell it for the easy money they can get. I have spoken to thousands of these people and I have yet to find any who want to drink it but do so as a relief after a hard day's work.

Modification allowing light wines and beers will answer the problem of law-abiding citizens who now break a law that they do not agree in right and will not uphold. HARRY W. HELD, 2 Lake Shore rd., So. Peabody, Mass.

POINTS TO RUSSIA

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:

From the year 1776 to 1920, the United States of America made wonderful progress in self government, without interfering with the "life, liberty and pursuit of happiness" of its people.

Since 1920 we have a different story. One good result has been attained, that is the permanent closing of the saloons. That was the only good surprise the people received from the World War.

In most of the cases of arrest, the law has been broken in order to make the life behind prohibition, succeeded in pursuing too drastic steps, the act may be repealed. Any law that requires the whole armed forces of the nation to enforce is really not sensible or

For Prohibition

LET THE GOOD KILLING GO ON

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:

I favor the Eighteenth Amendment and enforcement because it helps to make the country safe for decency. Just striving to put prohibition across has had a cleansing effect. For every bootlegger, barker, gangster and gunman that is "put on the spot" we have one more demonstration of the truth of the old, old saying that "Evil destroys itself."

If prohibition has done nothing else, it has, at least, brought the wolf-men out from their dens and set them snarling and killing each other. Let the good work go on!

MRS. MARTHA E. MACKIN, Care of Mrs. Charles DeMeritt, 30 Greenville st., Roxbury.

NOT NEEDED FOR PUBLIC REVENUE

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:

I favor the Eighteenth Amendment and enforcement. The prohibition amendment was added to the Constitution to promote the welfare of the individual, safeguard the family and protect posterity. Public policy is superior to private pleasure. The amendment is a challenge to every citizen.

The law abiding will rally to the support of the Constitution, the outlaw will try to nullify it. Opponents of prohibition claim it is a failure because it is inoperative, that illicit liquor traffic thrives as a result and is a menace to public health and morals, and that bootleggers are a triumphant answer to the question: "Is Prohibition a Success?"

As prohibition law enforcement is a failure, it is contended that the prohibition law is without merit. We do not have police stationed on bridges to warn people the water is deep and to watch their step. Prohibition is a bridge from drunkenness to sane living and common sense will cross it safely without coercion.

The Eighteenth Amendment has squelched the boast of liquor lovers that the revenue from liquor is necessary to the upkeep of government. The same amendment when properly enforced as it will be in time will remove all defenses of the beligerent "wets."

EDWARD A. LINNEHAN, 118 Hampshire st., Cambridge, Mass.

MORE LIBERTY

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:

I believe in Prohibition. I believe that it is an excellent law made by sensible people. It is the foundation of the aged struggle between socially-minded men and women and the immoral traffic, abetted by those who favor indulgence. It is a drastic law. It is a daring law. It is a law that has been placed upon drinking, personal liberty, and an auto and other luxuries which they never would have had. Liquor, in my opinion, was never good for anyone, but an awful curse to mankind.

Secondly, I sincerely hope it will never be modified in any way, but remain just as it is, and enforced to the limit. It can be done if the men who are paid to enforce the law will do their part. This is no rivalry—NEVER!

WENDELL P. HARRINGTON, Chelsea, Mass. 458 Tremont st., Boston.

A GREAT GIFT

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:

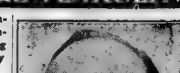

I most sincerely favor the Eighteenth Amendment. First, from my personal observation, it is a great gift to the people of this great country of ours, with the benefits that they have derived from it. Look at some of the people I know personally, who were terrible drinkers before prohibition. Now, they own their little home and an auto and other luxuries which they never would have had. Liquor, in my opinion, was never good for anyone, but an awful curse to mankind.

Secondly, I sincerely hope it will never be modified in any way, but remain just as it is, and enforced to the limit. It can be done if the men who are paid to enforce the law will do their part. This is no rivalry—NEVER!

In misery at least one day of every month, a tiny tablet now banishes such pain in five to seven minutes! Not a narcotic, mind, nothing that has the slightest effect on the natural process peculiar to women. Midol acts directly on the organs themselves, avoids the painful part—the part that is not natural. You may have tried other things for relief at such a time, but ask about Midol; purse-size metal case is fifty cents.

LOCAL FLYERS SEEK OTHER FIELDS

By GEORGE HANLIN
Having come to the conclusion Boston holds no further advancement for them, two local aviation celebrities will leave at the end of the week for New York.

R. G. Ervin and P. M. Spencer are the two boys who have cast their lots with other companies. Ervin was formerly vice-president and general manager of Curtis in New England. Spencer recently resigned as sales manager for the same company.

Before making the decision to accept Shell Oil Co.'s offer to act as eastern sales representative, with an airplane to carry him around, Ervin made an effort to organize a local air transportation company, but at the last minute, the plans fell through. It is said Ervin will keep his plans under his hat for the present, and will not give up hope of seeing something materialize from his efforts.

A year ago, Spencer took an OX motorized Curtiss biplane to 18,000 ft., a world's record for this type of motor, thus giving New England its first official aviation record. A few months later, the manager of the Bridgman Aircraft Co. of Curtis smashed Spencer's mark by a couple of hundred feet. The record still remains in New England, although not held by a Boston flyer.

Spencer has been engaged by the Ireland Aircraft Corp. of New York to act as general sales manager, and states he will leave one of the new Wasp engine Ireland airplanes in Boston within 10 days.

The ship carries four passengers and pilot, and climbs like a six-cylinder with its 425 horsepower motor.

Ervin's territory will include New England, and with Spencer making frequent trips, the pair will not entirely lose touch with things aeronautical in this section.

Call Smith, Raskob Before Grand Jury

New York, March 28 (AP)—Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith and J. P. Raskob, chairman of the National Democratic committee, and Michael J. Mooney, broker, were called as witnesses today before the grand jury investigating the affairs of Robert Lee Harrison, Park avenue broker.

Harrison disappeared in February, leaving reported obligations of more than $100,000. He is alleged to have told his clients, who claim they were defrauded, that he was interested in a stock pool with Smith, Raskob and Mooney. They say they did not know Harrison.

Old Boston in Pictures—No. 218

Massachusetts Tercentenary, 1930

THIS picture takes one back to the days of the horse cars in the last half of the last century. It shows Adams as it looked then. The open car turning the corner of Cornhill and Washington st., is bound for the "Old Colony and Albany Depots," now only memories. The car in the center is bound for the Norfolk House, in Roxbury. Lovell's store is in a new building on the left hand corner of Cornhill. Up Brattle at may be seen the Quincy House and its tower. More's clothing store is in the building at the right with the awnings. Tomorrow—Holy Trinity Church.

200,000 BLIND IN TUNIS FROM TRACHOMA

Tunis, March 28 (AP)—One-half of the entire population of Tunisia is suffering from trachoma, and the area of one-fourth of the population are so seriously affected that they cannot work.

The population totals 2,200,000, which means that more than 200,000 persons are more or less blind.

Confirming these figures, Dr. E. Harro, eye specialist, admitted that trachoma is probably more prevalent in Tunisia than anywhere else on earth.

Europeans in Tunisia are virtually unaffected, and the disease is not prevalent among Arab natives in the country, where in many villages practically the entire population is affected.

The disease is so common among school children in certain native towns that authorities have begun combating it by segregating the few children whose eyes are still unaffected. It is particularly common among children between five and ten. New cases are rare among adults.

The disease is most common where water is scarce and in districts lacking forests. Modern medicine can nearly always cure the disease in youth, but among the Arab population modern scientific treatment frequently is not sought. The disease is permitted to advance, frequently culminating in total blindness.

EX-SKIPPER TO TAKE BROOKLINE BRIDE IN ROMANCE OF SEAS

SECRET LOVE REVEALED ON WEDDING DAY

Miss Elizabeth Amann and Capt. H. A. Feyen of Germany Marry Tonight

A romance born of the sea and nurtured through years awaiting settlement, culminated for a seafaring German skipper today when the North German Lloyd steamer Karlsruhe docked at Commonwealth pier.

The 65-year-old bridegroom, Capt. Heinrich A. Feyen, will be married tonight at the home of his sister, Mrs. Feyen, 42 Mt. Vernon st., Beacon Hill, to Miss Elizabeth Amann of 208 Winthrop rd., Brookline.

The plans for Capt. Feyen's marriage were kept by him from his best friend, Capt. H. Fitzgerald, skipper of the Karlsruhe, and with whom he confided everything else in life during the trip here from Bremen.

Miss Amann was equally secretive about the coming nuptials until she was told that the filing of her marriage intentions, March 19, was covered by newspaper men.

"We met aboard ship, where every romance with a skipper should properly start," she said laughingly when she realized the secret was out.

Their plans for the future Miss Amann refused to reveal.

The prospects of their return to Germany to establish a home, however, was seen in the fact that the veteran skipper was allowed entry into the country on a visa's permit, good for six months only.

Rep. Leo M. Birmingham, minority House floor leader, was elected president. Other officers named were Rep. Tony Garofano of Quincy, treasurer; Rep. John A. Jones of Braintree, vice-president; Rep. Twombly, secretary. County Vice-presidents were also elected.

For COLDS

We all catch colds and they can make us miserable; but yours needn't last long if you will do this: Take two or three tablets of Bayer Aspirin just as soon as possible after a cold starts. Stay in the house if you can—keep warm. Repeat with another tablet or two of Bayer Aspirin every three or four hours, if those symptoms of cold persist. Take a good laxative when you retire, and keep bowels open. If throat is sore, dissolve three tablets in a quarter-glassful of water and gargle. This soothes inflammation and reduces infection. There is nothing like Bayer Aspirin for a cold, or sore throat. And it relieves aches and pains almost instantly. The genuine tablets, marked Bayer, are absolutely harmless to the heart.

It is made in the large works at Bayer Laboratories, at Monheim-on-the-Rhine, Germany.

Girl Discovers Flames in Time to Avert Frightful Somerville Tragedy

Alice Chakerian, 12, who was awakened by smoke just in time to cry an alarm so occupants could flee the dangerous Somerville fire.

Photo shows firemen in the ruins at the rear of 86-888 Broadway, Somerville, where a disastrous fire caused heavy damage. Several persons, including a cripple, were carried out and 19 fled for their lives. (Staff photos.)

Here are two of the girls who fled when flames swept their home. They are the Misses Dinjian, cousins, and are shown at a neighbor's examining their dresses.

MOTHER RISKS LIFE IN FIRE

Mother love nearly cost the life of Mrs. Rose Gummam, 38, today in a fire in the three-story wooden block at 886-888 Broadway, Somerville.

The fire drove 19 persons to the street and caused $20,000 damage. Unaware that all her children were safe and believing one to be still in the burning building, Mrs. Gummam pushed aside two policemen and rushed back into her home, where she was trapped by smoke and flames.

Before she was rescued, she suffered burns on the face, hands and arms.

An invalid man was carried from the third floor and another, trapped on the same floor, was saved by the timely arrival of fire apparatus as the flames closed about him.

The building, occupied on the first floor by stores of the Hag Confectionery Co., the Dunbar variety store and Danjan Bros. Market, is jointly owned by the Dinjian brothers.

Ham and Cheese Are Leaders in B. U. Student Menu

Ham and cheese are the two edibles which lead in satisfying the appetites at Boston University, the fair foods having a yearling for cheese and the males staging a daily rush for ham.

To make this checkup authentic, the various lunch rooms, located in the buildings of the different colleges at Boston University, were visited.

The first stop was at the college of practical arts and letters, the only girls' school in the university. Their slogan is "More toasted cheese sandwiches."

The sacred sanctum at the college of liberal arts—the men's—invited each noon by a sandwich dealer and here another crazy bout away. Jelly sandwiches so big here.

WOULD RECOVER TITLE TO FARM

Through a bill in equity in the Suffolk Superior Court, Alice L. W. Novius of Boston seeks to compel recoveries to her of the large farm she had deeded to William L. Novius of Milton, a landscape artist.

The plaintiff says she was married to the defendant in Boston, December 11, and that she lived with her until June 1, 1922. She avers he is now living on the farm with a woman "with whom he went through a marriage ceremony after obtaining what purports to be a divorce in Paris."

The farm was conveyed to Novius, she declares, so suitable home might be made for their three children. When she tried to get it back, Mrs. Novius sets forth, Novius told her she had no valid claim to the property.

Mrs. Novius asks the court to declare her the sole owner of the farm, which she seeks to have Novius prevented from encumbering it in any way pending outcome of the litigation.

Tinkham Will Head Drive for Home Fund

Congressman George Holden Tinkham has been chosen chairman of the committee directing the drive of the Washington Home at 41 Waltham st. for a building fund of $100,000.

The home was established in 1883 for the care of indigent and this is the first appeal that has been made to the public during the years that 40,000 victims have been treated.

The directors want to rebuild in a more stately section of Boston, they announce.

Waltham Hospital Trustees Elect

Henry C. Eaton was elected president of the trustees of Waltham hospital at the annual meeting. Other officers chosen were: Alexander R. Smith, Jr., vice president; Mrs. L. D. Tinker, secretary; Mrs. E. F. Atkins, H. P. Bunker, R. E. Zieher, Charles E. Oliver, C. W. Potter, Homer Sewall and Thomas J. Curtis, executive committee.

MALDEN PLANS JOBS FOR MANY

The Malden city government is to be asked for an appropriation of $150,000 for the expenditure of $100,000 to be used for the construction of sidewalks and sewers in that city in an effort to give work to the army of Malden unemployed citizens.

The Malden street and water commission is requesting the money. It was pointed out that if the measure passed the work will start immediately. Scores of men would be given employment. It was also announced that considerable street construction is to be done in Malden during the summer.

Fair and Cool for Two Days in Boston

Fair and "comfortable" for at least two more days the Weather Man declared today as the sun beamed.

A high pressure area from the northwest is moving on the Hub and this will keep the temperature from rising appreciably. Today's minimum temperature was 34 degrees at 5 and 6 a. m. It had gone up to 41 degrees by 3 p. m. and degree above the reading at the same hour yesterday.

Curley Says Poem Is Wrong About First Shot at Concord

"Poetry may not support me, but history does."

This was Mayor Curley's retort to critics who said he was mistaken in his historical illustration, in referring to "the shot fired round the world" as being fired at Lexington Green.

Perhaps that shot was fired at Concord in the famous poem, he said, "but that first firing that morning—April 19, 1775—was at Lexington, where Capt. Parker said:

"Don't fire until fired upon, but if they mean to have a war, let it begin here."

If the Concord shot were "heard around the world" so must also the Lexington volley. The war began there."

Arlington Chief Suspends 3 Cops

Because, it is charged, they were ineffectual in the manner in which they patrolled their routes, three Arlington policemen were temporarily suspended from duty today by Chief Thomas Urquhart.

Two were given three days off with loss of pay. These are Felix Pope and Charles Scannell. Officer William Mahoney was suspended for one day.

TESTING SIRENS FOR AIRPORT

Experiments are being made by Albert L. Edson, superintendent of the Boston Municipal Airport, on different types of sirens and a method of clearing the field and warning of an accident soon to be devised.

Under present plans, according to Edson, the siren will be used to stop all activity on the runway when the passenger transports are coming in or taking out for a take-off. When the big ships have cleared, two blasts will be sounded. An accident or a fire will most likely be signalled by a series of short blasts.

Ships in the air will be notified that the transports are coming in or are ready to take off by means of flags waved out, or blasts of steam such as are used at one of the airports. Night signalling will be accomplished by means of lights.

URGES ALL AID FOR CENTENARY

Exaggeration and false claims to prominence have been avoided in attempting to interest the country in the 300th anniversary of Massachusetts, according to John Jackson Walsh, acting president of the Massachusetts Bay Tercentenary, Inc.

Addressing the New England Free Dealers' Association at the Hotel Statler, he said:

"It seemed to me prudent to put forward only those achievements of Massachusetts which are a matter of pride to all Americans, and at the same time, to acknowledge the just claims of all other states whose people have contributed to the glory of our nation."

"The real virtues of Massachusetts is that her wealth and service have been poured out in making other states great. This is the true spirit of Massachusetts."

"Everybody in Massachusetts should have an active part in the Tercentenary. For either selfish or patriotic motives, or both, the whole project is everybody's business."

LACK OF VISION COSTLY, SAYS FITZGERALD

Industry Ignores Brains, Fete Starts Poorly, He Tells Back Bay Group

Rapping the lack of vision and foresight in Boston and Massachusetts leaders, former Mayor John H. Fitzgerald last night urged that they get rid of their "inferior complex" to assure the success of the tercentenary celebration.

Addressing a meeting of the Back Bay Association, he declared that "clique rule" has caused the decay of the textile industry and that pretension and delay have been almost fatal to the coming observance.

Fitzgerald pointed out the tercentenary is not only an historical and spiritual observance but is calculated to remedy the nasty condition of business. This latter purpose, he said, was rendered almost impossible by delay and lack of necessary funds.

He went on to state that immigrant stock was given no opportunities to rise beyond factory work in the textile centers and that consequently the best brains of the district were leaving.

In conclusion, the speaker complimented Mayor Curley on his conservative program for civic improvement and urged the fullest participation. "Don't think I am knocking Boston, but there has been a certain element in Boston which has been very conservative," he said.

Friedman Battles Monte in Garden Ring Tonight

EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS

McCarthy in Clash With Weiss

Complete Card at Garden Tonight

TEEN RUNNIN
Al Friedman, Roseland, vs. Joe Monte, Boston
Pat McCarthy, Roxbury, vs. Sam Weiss, Philadelphia
SIX ROUNDS
Jack McCarthy, Roxbury, vs. Jimmy Mantell, Charlestown
Al Lino, Italy, vs. Mel Aragon, New York
Dan Regan, Gardiner, vs. Terry Mitchell, Cambridge

FOUR ROUNDERS
Gene Rehder, Cambridge, vs. Freddie Lattina, New York
Joe Vincho, Boston, vs. Big Boy Duffie, Westbury, R. I.
First bout, 8 o'clock.
Main bout, 10 o'clock.

By JACK CONWAY
AL FRIEDMAN, most active fighter in the world, will try to end the six which Joe Monte has always been to him when he clashes with the Brooklyn warrior in a 10-round bout at the Boston Garden tonight.

Nine times, as amateur and pro, Friedman has whittled into him against Monte. And nine times has Al stood in his corner and watched Monte get the decision.

This is a bout where Friedman had become a national figure in the boxing game. During the past year and a half, the former Roseland doer, who has been in every part of the country, has been a national figure. The best of them have not been as tough as Al. In his last start here, he gave Tuffy Griffin a hell of a battle. The milking was so close that some of the cash customers of Friedman was entitled to the award.

Other than for a knockout scored by Big Boy Duffie, Friedman has lost the decision in all of his recent Boston bouts. He dropped awards to Ernie Schaaf, Jim Maloney and Tuffy Griffin.

On each occasion, however, Al ended up with cheers. He gave the crowd a run for its money. He stepped to close quarters and "broke away" with both hands as if he asked to do so.

This style of battling has made Friedman a hero hereabouts. The club is true in the other spots where he has let his fists fly. He has beaten a flock of tough opposition, including Harry Allen, during the past few months and it is of the opinion he will make it victory No. 10 over Friedman this p. m.

Pat McCarthy to Take on Sam Weiss

PAT MCCARTHY, Roxbury, heavyweight, will return to the fight was tonight when he collides with Sam Weiss of Philadelphia in the sensational 10 rounds. Weiss is a member of the Al Lino stable and is said to be a rugged, two-fisted youth.

McCarthy has been working out at Kelley & Hayes' Gym. He says he is in good condition and that he is ready for big things in the boxing ring. Pat has been hitting boxing gloves with Jim Maloney and Ernie Schaaf, but neither of these victories has done much to hurt him. If McCarthy wins over Weiss in dramatic style, he will force some of the leading heavyweights to give him consideration.

Strong Prelim Card for Garden Show

MATCHMAKER Alex MacLean has arranged an attractive preliminary card. There will be a couple of acts. Jack McCarthy will tackle Jimmy Mantell of Charlestown, while Dan Regan of Gardiner will oppose Terry Mitchell of Cambridge. Another six will feature Al Lino of Italy and Mel Aragon of New York.

In the four rounds, Gene Rehder of Cambridge will punch at Freddie Lattina of New York, while Joe Vincho, Irish, will pound away heavily, will tackle Big Boy Duffie.

Horton Smith to Show New Clubs

An advance showing of golf clubs built to meet the demands of the new ball which will make the debut next season in both woods and irons, will be seen at the New England Golf Convention at the Copple-Pine Hotel on next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Horton Smith, one of golf's great minds, will bring the equipment to the show.

New Players With Tribe This Season

WALTER BERGER, new Braves' left fielder, has all the earmarks of one of those real natural players. He built up a home run reputation in the Pacific Coast League and the Triple A's to go high to get him from the Los Angeles club. Walter is a right hander, weighs 170 pounds, and stands 6 feet 2 inches.

Walter Berger

He is a good outfielder, as well as a hitter, and worked himself into a regular place in the lineup. The big boy broke into baseball in 1927, with Portland East Idaho, and was with the Los Angeles, where he played through '28.

Walt is a free swinger, who according to southern form, is not really feared. He will be given a thorough trial, and will probably start the season out in left.

AMHERST NINE LOSES STAR

Amherst, March 28.—Amherst College baseball squad lost one of its most brilliant candidates for the varsity when George Reynolds suffered a fractured right leg, just before the season out in left.

Reynolds, a sophomore from Acawam, Mass., and captain of last year's team, was sliding into third base when he hit the ground, breaking the bone.

NATIONAL TO SHAUN GOILIN

Shaun Goilin was quoted at 100 to 8 against in the betting, while the odds on Miller were 20 to 1 against, and 100 to 7 against on Ben Lindav.

Ben Lindav, the best liked of the American entries, put up a game battle under 140 pounds, but finished a length back of the two leaders. Whittier's horse and Melvina Belle took the last jump together with Shaun Goilin a length behind.

The latter, however, came up with a rush in win in a drive. Graklin, the favorite in the betting, finished the first lap well up among the leaders, but disappeared somewhere "in the country" and did not finish.

Gingras, an American horse when ran last year for R. K. Miller in the United States, made all the running from Valentine's Brook on the first time round the course, but fell back at the same jump on the second time over the course. Melvina Belle, Shaun Goilin and Ben Lindav challenged Gingras at the same time, losing the lead in the order named with Gingras dropping back to fourth position.

From the last time over Valentine's Brook, Melvina Belle led until the three leaders reached the last fence. The three took the barrier closely bunched. Ben Lindav remained in the running to the final stride to finish one of the most thrilling races in recent years.

One of the field of 41 starters completed the course with Royal Arch 11 finishing last of the group. M. D. Blair's Bally Harwood was fifth.

Westfield Five in Semi-Final Round

Glen Falls, N. Y., March 28 (AP).—The semi-finals of the annual winter golf tournament will bring together here tonight the Westfield, Conn., and the Glen Falls, N. Y., teams. The Westfield team, led by R. L. and St. Mary's High School of Westfield, has the leading champions, including Conk Anderson, Montclair, N. Y.

New Britain Miss on American Golf Team

New York, March 28 (INS).—Miss Marion Bennett, youthful star of the Shuttle Meadow Country Club of New Britain, Ct., today accepted Miss Glenn Collette's invitation to join the team of American women golf stars who will invade England this spring for the first international women's team matches in history.

Carnera to Fight in Oakland Next Month

Oakland, Cal., March 28 (INS).—Prime Carnera, Italian heavy weight, will appear here in a bout with Ray D'Amico, it was announced today by Louisa Parente of the East Bay Athletic Club, who is manager for Carnera. The bout will be held at the Oakland Coliseum.

TUFTS NINE IS TAKING SHAPE

The Tufts infield begins to take shape after nearly a week's outdoor work. Although hampered greatly by cold weather Ken Nash has been able to look his men over in two or three easy practice games and is well satisfied with his new men.

Nick Fitzgerald seems to have the inside track on the regular first base job, following in his brother's footsteps. On second Bob Vargo, a former Boston Latin player, looks like a fixture and Norm Ingalls is back in his old short field berth. Ray Ocker, last year's left fielder has been tried at third and seems to have the ability to scoop up ground balls with no trouble.

He will start the season at third with Frank Lopez in the position camp. A football man is shown up with the fly chaser and there by Los Angeles, where he played through '28.

Walt is a free swinger, who according to southern form, is not really feared. He will be given a thorough trial, and will probably start the season out in left.

Jack Conway Picks Friedman and McCarthy to Win

JACK CONWAY today picked Al Friedman to beat Joe Monte in their bout at the Boston Garden tonight.

"Monte has won nine straight decisions over Friedman," said Conway, "but I feel that Al will come into his own this p. m."

BIG ED FIGHTS FOR LIFE

Horace C. March 26, Big Ed Walsh, former Chicago White Sox pitcher, is fighting for his life in a hospital after an operation for appendicitis.

The pitcher for the U. S. City said that Walsh was a very sick man, but he held out strong hopes for his recovery. He said the operation disclosed that Walsh had a ruptured appendix and that peritonitis had set in. It will be several days, he said, before a crisis is reached.

Walsh, now a scout for the White Sox, was stricken Tuesday while returning from the South where he has been visiting major league "rags" camps.

The former spitball artist has two sons holding for major league stardom this season. Young Ed with the White Sox and Bob who has been having a trial with the New York Yankees.

5. New shape guard channel gives full shaving clearance
6. New shape guard teeth meet skin smoothly, naturally
7. No projecting posts to dull blade edges
8. Reinforced razor corners prevent damage if dropped
9. Square blade ends safer to handle
10. Shaves easier around mouth, nose, ears
11. New blades same price as old
12. New razor, 24K, gold-plated, with one new blade, in case $1.00

ISN'T it worth the price of a few smokes to have lifetime shaving comfort?

Men tell they'd pay many times one dollar rather than give up their New Gillette Blade and Razor. This new shaving tool won't "pull," can't "pull"—even if you abuse it. Drop it on the basin, roll it on the floor.

Here's why—

Gillette engineers found that "razor pull" is caused by dropping a razor and denting the corners. In a precision instrument such as the Gillette Razor, a slight nick may throw the blade out of alignment.

To meet this trouble, the entire razor and blade was redesigned at many points. The corners of the razor cap are reinforced with heavy metal plugs. Even if you should manage to dent this extra thickness of metal, you still won't throw the blade out of alignment. Why? Because all four corners of the new blade are cut out. The blade is under no pressure at the corners when cap and guard clamp together.

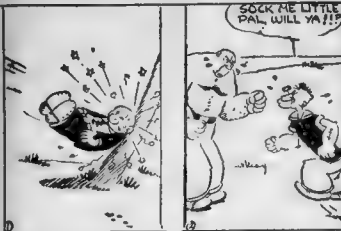

Now when you're through shaving, all you do is shift guard at right angles, re-tighten, and rinse under hot running water. No more taking the razor apart to wipe it. The blade is processed to resist rust. Just shake thoroughly and place on shelf. No more cut towels. No more wasted time.

The position posts too—which accidentally nicked more than one good blade edge—are gone. Please note, too, how the guard teeth are rounded back farther to

R. KLEIN SEES CONSTRUCTION IN UPSWING

By FRANK H. MELOON

John Klein, assistant secretary of commerce, visiting in Rome, tells me he is convinced construction activities are at last starting a nationwide upswing. The Cambridge savant of business and commerce was disturbed by reports of the midwest slump, fearing it might temporarily retard new business in that section.

Dr. Klein retains all his previous opinions on the "long pull" used by the Germans in their travels to the United States.

With its large holdings of New England railroad stocks, it is practically just how accurate it is in the Pennsylvania an "outside" road, Interstate Commerce Commission "lineups" to the company notwithstanding.

Prosperity Looks Big

More Congress Made of Tariff Legislation Disgrace to Party and Brake on Wheels of Industry

WITH the coming of spring the American people will soon see their seven thousand million-dollar building program for public works and public utilities in full swing all over the country.

And the expenditure of this vast sum of money in 1930 will mean new employment for hundreds of thousands of wage-earners, new business for nearly every major industry, and new encouragement to business generally.

Detailed reports obtained by the national business survey conference afford a sound basis for confidence in the steady improvement of general business conditions.

These reports can be relied upon for two reasons. They come largely from trade associations. And they are compiled by men whom long experience has taught the real meaning of trends and factors in their respective lines.

These reports show that the country is steadily overcoming those obstacles which only a few months ago threatened to retire an early return to a business-as-usual schedule. And they give new evidence of the influence upon the return of prosperity of the seven thousand million-dollar building program which is now starting all over the country.

Bond issues for the last two months were 35 PER CENT LARGER THAN FOR THE SAME PERIOD LAST YEAR and bond prices have turned upward.

Funds for long and short-time securities are generally increasing and the outlook in the investment field is shown to be generally favorable.

There is an easing of bank credits all over the country and the increase in bank loans shows that funds are going into use again.

New February business for life insurance companies totaled more than ONE THOUSAND MILLION DOLLARS, WHICH IS THREE PER CENT MORE THAN FOR THE SAME PERIOD LAST YEAR.

In almost every section of the country building and loan associations report a marked increase in receipts over those for the closing months of last year.

Farm loans show a slight increase, but there is a marked decrease in delinquencies and foreclosures as compared with the last two years.

Installment sales are almost equal to last year.

Shipbuilding yards employed last month 28 PER CENT MORE MEN THAN FEBRUARY A YEAR AGO and there will be large additions to their force as soon as the government speeds up its award of new ocean mail contracts which will require more new construction.

The main obstacle in the way of returning prosperity is the mess which Congress has made of tariff legislation. First, the House passed an extortionately high tariff bill. And now the Senate, after six months' dawdling, has framed a tariff bill almost as bad.

Once tariff legislation is out of the way the chief cause of business uncertainty will be eliminated.

That is why every American interested in speeding up the return of prosperity owes it to his own welfare to rebuke the Senate and House of Representatives for the mess that they have made of tariff legislation. IT IS NOT ONLY A DISGRACE TO THE PARTY IN POWER BUT A BRAKE UPON THE WHEELS OF RETURNING PROSPERITY.

Speed's the Thing

One Year School Building Program Seems Progressive

THE one year school building program as proposed by Finance Commissioner Frank A. Goodwin to the School Committee seems to be the correct solution of the differences of opinion over the several million dollar program which was to cover a period of fifteen years.

The children and their accommodations in the schools cannot be neglected while authorities are investigating expenditures. There are hundreds of children in portables today and it will take a twelve month at least to get them out even under the one-year plan.

Commissioner Goodwin's suggestion meets with the approval of Chairman Hurley of the School Committee, and we think it reasonable enough to recommend it to the Mayor.

A Harbor Cleanup

SHIPPING MEN will approve Mayor Curley's recommendations to Congress for the dredging of Boston Harbor. The House Committee on Rivers and Harbors is preparing its usual bill in which there is three million dollars for Boston's harbor needs. The most important item in what Boston wants is the removal of the so-called Middle Ground southerly from Governor's Island. Its proximity to the main ship channel has made it a danger to navigation, especially in thick weather.

Removal of this danger point would make a good and wide exit to sea.

Welcome to President

PRESIDENT HERBERT HOOVER should set aside a time to visit Massachusetts this Tenthcentary year. Governor Allen has extended him the official invitation of the state to be our guest and the American League adds its appeal to that of our chief magistracy.

The old Bay State can easily furnish the place and occasion this year, leaving only the time to be filled in by First Officer Hoover. He will be warmly welcomed.

H. G. Wells Writes on "The Science of Life"

In Collaboration With Prof. Julian Huxley and George F. Wells

O skeleton even of this stage as those of horses—three toes and a rather lumpy hump, but horses. Finally, in the earliest stage, the far ancestor, which we can still definitely detect the tendencies which culminated in the modern horse, some of the animal were bigger than the modernized terrier; there were four little horns on the forehead and these on the hind foot, sometimes the hind foot also showed two splint bones representing the missing first and fifth digits; the teeth were very short, with only indications of the system of grinding ridges, and the premolars were not so large as the complicated patterns as the molar.

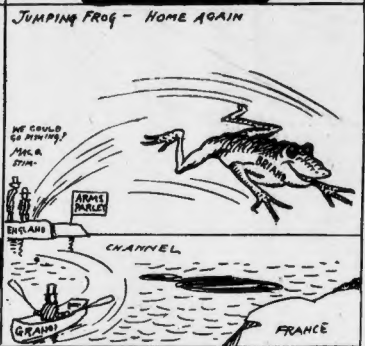

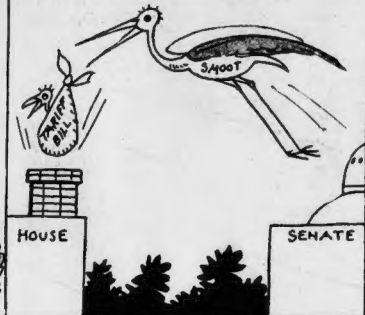

Besides the teeth and toes, other characters, too, show steady parallel changes as we go back through time. The earlier forms had shorter necks and lower, less tightly-fitted wrists and ankles, two separate bones instead of one in the lower arm and leg.

In a word, as we go back through time, we find less efficiency adapted for swift running and for grinding hard, vegetable and more and more like the other generalized mammals the early Eocene (V. 42). The existence of the three-toed horses in the past requires a double significance when we remember that every individual perished before of today actually passes through a three-toed stage in its embryonic development.

In a six-week embryo the limbs are short; two separate bones are present to make the skeleton of the forelimb; the wrist and ankle are short, and the middle toe is flanked by two other smaller but perfectly formed toes, each complete with the same number of joints as the center toe.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Thoughts while strolling: Intellectuals at the Town Hall yesterday. Haywood Brown smiling along like a good-natured bear. New York waves waves into smoke. The Joe Cannon tilt to Irvin Coker's cigar. Irving Brokaw, the society shaker.

Drake's restaurant, where ladies cannot smoke. And where intellectuals at the Town Hall yesterday. Haywood Brown smiling along like a good-natured bear. New York waves waves into smoke. The Joe Cannon tilt to Irvin Coker's cigar. Irving Brokaw, the society shaker.

Hand book stationery stores. Robert Little, dramatic artist of the World. "Culler" "Culler" joints. All right milk stores. Mo Du-core, the theatrical druggist. And his drug store—where stage folk drop in after the play. Just like the Hotel Astor. The Spanish restaurant done in red with a roomy matador as a carriage starter.

MAJ BOWEN and Margaret of my sweethearts—some of the most beautiful women in the world. And holding hands like schoolboy lovers. Always a convention at the Hotel Astor. The Spanish restaurant done in red with a roomy matador as a carriage starter.

"COME HOME!"

To CHARLES G. DAWES, American Ambassador to Great Britain and Member of the American Delegation to the London Naval Conference

WHY not send the American delegation home, Mr. Ambassador, now that your practical American mind has seen the futility of this latest attempt to set off the fireworks of well-meaning American patriotism under the drenching downpour of realism in a war-mind European world?

It is with particular satisfaction, sir, that the American people have contemplated your presence on an American delegation headed by an old League of Nations man, Henry L. Stimson.

Stimson is widely suspected of a Wilsonian itch to meddle in the quarrels of all the world ever since he protruded his uninvited nose into the Russo-Chinese controversy—and withdrew it smarting from a stiff and well-deserved punch.

It is a fortunate thing, indeed, that Stimson is not seconded by an American Ambassador to Great Britain of the stripe of Walter Hines Page.

The American people have not forgotten Page's disloyalty to his country. They have not forgotten Page's treasonable disclosure to Sir Edward Grey of the President's confidential messages concerning maintenance of American neutrality in the world war. They have not forgotten Page's confessed plotting with the British Government—a plot that was unfortunately successful—to bring us into the war on the side of the Allies.

The people trust you, General Dawes, as an envoy of another type, as a man of the sound Middle West, as an American acquainted with the true facts of this world war business, as an American on guard against the ceaseless intrigues of Europe to inveigle us into paying the costs of their last fight and participating in their future conflicts, and as a soldier aware alike of the horrors of war, the dangers of defenselessness, and the perils of European alliances.

WE SHOULD LIKE YOU TO BOOK PASSAGE FOR YOUR FELLOW DELEGATES TO COME HOME, MR. AMBASSADOR, ON SOME ONE OF THE GOOD AMERICAN SHIPS SAILING FROM LONDON OR SOUTHAMPTON IN THE NEXT WEEK.

Thereafter, the country feels that it can count on you to do two things:

FIRST, Recognize the stern present reality of our unassailable and unequal naval position with relation to a Tory-minded England that is still intent on dominating the world, including the United States, and

SECOND, Work for the FUTURE IDEAL of a satisfactory and equal partnership between the United States and the English-speaking members of the British Empire, BANDED TOGETHER TO KEEP THE PEACE OF THE WORLD.

The record of the last ten years seems sadly to show that England is not yet ready for this partnership.

We have witnessed her statement in 1922 trick us into a false battleship disarmament conference, in which AMERICA ALONE DID THE DISARMING.

We have discovered that, while we pursued a naval building holiday since that time, Great Britain built a fleet of 600,000 TONS OF POWERFUL MODERN CRUISERS.

We have experienced the protests of the British Government against our desire to elevate the guns of our remaining ancient battleships so that they could shoot as far as the new British battleships.

We found at the Geneva naval "disarmament conference" of 1927 that the British would agree to disarm only IF WE BUILT THE KIND OF CRUISERS SUITABLE FOR BRITAIN AND NOT FOR OUR NEEDS.

The Hearst papers then exposed a secret Anglo-French naval treaty, directed against the United States, IN WHICH THE TWO COUNTRIES AGREED TO STAND TOGETHER AGAINST THE KIND OF CRUISERS THE AMERICAN NAVY HAS DECLARED IT REQUIRES FOR AMERICAN DEFENSE.

We have found that the Kellogg-Briand pact, originated by Mr. Briand, is no deterrent of wars.

On the contrary, Europe says, the pact must be "implemented" by an agreement on our part TO JOIN EUROPEAN POWERS IN MILITARY MEASURES AGAINST ANY ONE THEY VOTE TO BE AN "AGGRESSOR."

We have seen our country, and yours, General Dawes, besmirched with the stigma of making this London naval conference a failure, because we would not join them in a "security pact" in which warlike European nations were made secure at America's sacrifice of peace and independence.

IT IS TIME FOR THE AMERICAN DELEGATION TO COME HOME.

And it is time to stop futile and farcical chattering about disarmament with nations which will not disarm, and about naval limitation with nations whose only object is military and naval increase until they reach the ultimate and inevitable climax of unprovoked naval conflict.

IT IS TIME FOR THE AMERICAN DELEGATION TO COME HOME.

Then let the Government of the United States and the Government of the British Empire discuss the details of that naval parity which both seem to be agreed upon and which may be the one overwhelming influence to maintain the peace of the world and to preserve the white race from self-extinction in universal and suicidal conflict.
